Who We Are

MIT School of Humanities, MIT Art, Design and Technology University (MIT-ADT University) was established by the renowned MIT Group of Institutions in 2019. MIT-ADT University is a UGC-recognized multidisciplinary university. MIT School of Humanities offers undergraduate, postgraduate and doctoral programmes in English.

B.A. (Honours) English /English with Research

The programmes are spread over eight semesters. These are National Education Policy aligned programmes covering all the NEP parameters such as holistic education, multidisciplinary education, research, internship, vocational training, internationalisation, project based learning and more. They offer a comprehensive exploration of the English language, its literary traditions, cultural impact and related fields.

M.A. English (ELLT)

This Master's programme in the English Language and Literature Teaching is the only programme in Pune with an exclusive focus on 'teaching' encompassing the areas of both Language and Literature and is aimed at practising teaching as a form of continued professional development. The programme aims at equipping prospective English Language and Literature educators with a sound knowledge of language pedagogy through a wide range of subjects distributed over the course of four semesters. Curriculum Development, Material Designing, Theories in ELLT, Approaches and Methods in ELLT, ICT and Language Teaching, English for Specific Purposes, are some of the 15+ courses offered under M.A. English(ELLT).
